the number of old soldiers resident in the state, which is reported to be 125, 1000. Every old soldier should be a member of this noble organization. The time will come when the well worn uniform of the order, and the badge and button of membership, will be more highly prized by the descendants of the veteran, than any other insignia of office or rank whatsoever. The benefits to the soldier, himself, are inestimable. The fellowship of comrades with common experience of march, battle, hospital and prison, of events unparreled even in this age of wonders, holds within itself a heritage in more copious and rich than any known.

The friends of Mr. C. Englehardt were very much shocked and grieved to learn on Saturday that he had accidentally shot and killed himself on the morning of that day at his home in Elsmore township. Immediately upon hearing the news Sheriff Britton drove out to the farm and at his instance a coroner's jury was summoned by N. L. Ard, J. P., to inquire into the matter. From the Sheriff we learn the following facts. Mr. Englehardt was expecting to go to Humboldt with his son, but before starting said ne would go over into the woods The public meeting of the Woman's Foreign missionary Society and the Young Woman's Missionary Society to be held in the Methodist Church, Sunfay Recember 25, at 7 p. m.

had been set on fire by the discharge of the gun which had caused the death, A careful examination showed that Mr. Englehardt must have climbed over the fence and in turning to draw the gun after him had discharged both barrels. The charges entered his body about the middle, between the lower ribs and ranged upward, doubtless penetrating the heart and causing in> a verdict in accordance with the above facts. The accident is a peculiarly sad one from the fact that, after having had a hard struggle for a long time Mr. Englehardt was just now getting his affairs in such shape that he could look forward to pleasant and prosperous years. He had suffered much expense and annovance from his controversies with the Leaguers, but with the settlement of that question there was coming to be good fellowship between him and the men who through all their litigation had always recognized and honored his outspoken candor and honesty. Death seems a peculiarly untimely visitor when it comes at such a juncture.
